FRIDAY 26 OCT 2018

The global society presents great challenges and opportunities in an uncertain, revocable and contingent context of social order. We are challenged by questions that are urgent as they are producing irreversible damage: social integration of those who lack opportunities and are conditioned by their biographical and social identity; the particular situation of young people in low quality educational and work conditions that affect their possibilities in life and challenge social peace; the nature that reacts and shows us our interdependence with our planet, among others.

SATURDAY 27 OCT 2018

The Forum calls for action to build bridges and demolish walls, to develop spaces for public coexistence, to take care of the environment, breaking the ethical tension between awareness of the present and responsible concern for the future. We have explored our being and the ways in which we weave links with others. We appeal to creativity and cosmic intelligence, channeling processes of feeling and acting integrally, in a systemic transformation starting from our own conscious evolution.
